

Amendments to the Specification:

Please amend paragraph [0009] as follows:

In order to obtain the necessary thinness and lightness of an LCD module for a notebook PC in the LCD device having the aforementioned structure, a light-scattering means formed on a light-guiding plate of the backlight unit ~~45-15~~ is formed of three sheets. The light-scattering means receives the light emitted from the backlight, and uniformly scatters the received light to an entire surface of the LCD panel.
